

Structure of the heart

This model represents the internal structure of the heart, showing all four chambers, and all blood vessels.

The grey arrows represent the direction of the blood flow.